PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

The schooner N. L. Drew was wrecked at Little river.

Dario Juarez was convicted of murder in the first degree at Martinez.

A boiler in a cedar factory at Salem, Oregon, exploded, injuring several persons.

J. B. Montgomery had a leg broken by being thrown from a buggy in Portland.

A bankrupt merchant was acquitted of perjury and arrested for burglary at Portland.

Ose Wagner, who collected several hundred dollars by false representations at Grass Valley, was arrested at Chico.

C. J. Murphy, charged with passing forged checks in Portland, says he is not guilty, but has a double for whom he is mistaken.

A member of the English Parliament is expected in Montana shortly. He will investigate sheep farming with a view of investing heavily.

The contest for the office of County Treasurer of San Mateo county, Cal., has been decided against L. Jacobson and in favor of P. P. Chamberlain.

The steamer Harriet that sank opposite Antioch, Cal., two weeks ago, in five fathoms of water, has been successfully raised by Captain Hunt.

Charley Gates, the driver of the Helena, M. T., stage, was instantly killed one night last week by the upsetting of the coach near Butte City.

A canal scheme to water the land on the west side of the San Joaquin valley, in Fresno county, is talked of. The estimated cost will be about $40,000.

Frank Clarke, a deserter from the Sixth Infantry, stationed at Camp Douglas, U. S., has been arrested at Ogden for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Albert Hunt was found dead with two bullet holes in his body on a prairie near Benton, M. T., last week. It was unmistakably a case of murder and robbery.

Montana last week a man named McDonough took off his coat, containing $950, and proceeded to whip a man with whom he had a dispute. When he got through he found that somebody had stolen his money.

They have a fish at Bolinas which puzzles the native experts. It came ashore at Easkeet's beach, and measures 28 feet 4 inches from head to tail, and five feet through. The fishermen say that it is neither whale nor shark, and that they never saw the species before. The Academy of Science should come forward with some uncontradictable Latin.

Some capitalists have in view an extensive lumbering scheme in the northern part of California. The finest body of pine timber in the Sierra Nevada range is that growing in the vicinity of Big Bend, on Pit river, but which has hitherto been deemed inaccessible to profitable milling. It is now proposed to open up this section to market, either by rafting the logs down that stream or fluming them to some point on the Sacramento river, where mills will be erected.

F. L. Bish and John West were drowned on Saturday last in the Spokane river, near Little Falls, W. T., while trying to force a boom of logs into the race connected with the mill. The water being very swift, it forced the whole boom against the boat occupied by the men and drove them down the stream. Seeing their danger they abandoned the boat and caught hold of the boom for support. The current was too much for them however, and they were carried over the falls of Spokane, twenty-five feet high.

THE STATE CONSTITUTION.

With regard to the necessity of revising the State Constitution, there seems to be but one opinion, says the Elko Independent, but in relation to the best method of accomplishing that object, opinion is divided between the calling of a convention and amendments by the Legislature. The latter would certainly be the most economical by far, and unless more weighty reasons are given for a convention than have been presented. The plan of legislative amendment should be adopted. The fact that both parties in the late canvass indorsed the calling of a convention is held to pledge the members elect to that course under all circumstances. This does not strike everybody, however, as a correct view of the case, for while the feeling was general that a revision of the organic law was a necessity, it is but reasonable to believe that the specifying of a particular plan by which such revision was to be affected was simply because that, at the time, was deemed the best; should a cheaper and equally as effective one be discovered, we opine that its adoption by the Legislature would bring no charges of broken faith against the members of that body. An organic instrument which will meet the requirements of the changed conditions of the State is what the people want, the manner of its construction being merely a question of celerity and economy.

A BAD LAW.

The law passed at the ninth session of the Legislature, providing for paying a bounty to any person planting trees, should be repealed at the coming session. The law in its intent is all right enough, for it was calculated to encourage land-holders to improve and beautify the deserts. It provides for the payment of $10 per acre to any person planting trees five rods apart on the land, and $10 for every half mile of trees planted on any public highway for a period of twenty years. B. F. Lester has recovered judgment against Washoe county for $160 and cost of suit for a little poplar grove he set out on his land just below town, and which is of no earthly benefit to the county of town. The law is dangerous and should be taken from our statutes at once.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There is considerable excitement beyond the Canadian border line over discoveries of silver near Pigeon river. General Wilde, according to reports received by way of Duluth, Minn., claims to have discovered the richest veins of silver on the continent. It is expected to take out, by the crudest methods, $150,000 worth this winter.

The Northern Pacific Railroad during that portion of the present year up to the end of October had, it is stated, carried 32,000 head of cattle out of Montana, and it is predicted that next season the road will carry 75,000 head from regions which it will traverse.

The San Franciscans are figuring that the coming of the Triennial Conclave of Knights Templar which will assemble there in August next will bring 10,000 Knights and 15,000 others, and they are counting their hotel accommodations.

The Carson Tribune thinks the salaries paid officials at the Nevada Insane Asylum are not enough, and until a raise is made the right class of men and women will not much longer be procured.

There is more money spent for rum in this country than there is for flour, and yet people howl every time flour goes up, and don't bother themselves about the whisky that goes down.

Where is "Democrat," the interesting Carson correspondent of the Silver State? It cannot be that the good people of the Capital have put him under the sod.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE

EASTERN DISPATCHES

The Star Pugilists—Mace, Coburn and Sullivan.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.

The sparring exhibition to-night between Joe Coburn, recently from Sing Sing, and Sullivan causes unusual excitement in sporting circles. The Tribune says Coburn has proved himself a good fighter, holding his own in a battle with Mace at New Orleans. Mace telegraphed his backer in this city yesterday that he had sent him by mail a letter containing full terms of agreement he was willing to make with Sullivan. He will give an exhibition in San Francisco and then come East with his Australian protege.

"Should a fight between himself and Sullivan be arranged to take place," Coburn was asked, "what do you think of the coming 'Mace-Sullivan fight'? Do you think Mace a match for Sullivan?"

"No, I do not. Mace is 51 years old. He is too old, a man to fight a young man like Sullivan, I wish Sullivan was here to tell you what he told me. He says he will fight Mace or anybody else. But he won't do anything that will send him to prison. He says he is tired of fighting, but he will fight if crowded to the wall. Let them bring on their Australian, and if he looks like a man he can be accommodated."

The Hudson River Tunnel.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.

It having been stated that the death of Trenor W. Park would stop the Hudson river tunnel, a reporter visited the manager, who said the death of Park did cripple the company. "We have no funds at the present time to continue the work, and cannot say when work will be resumed. There will be a meeting of the Directors next month to discuss the question, and it is hoped that a way out of the present difficulty will be found. The idea of abandoning the work has never been suggested. Too much money has already been expended in the work to permit this."

Condition of Mexico—Distance Lends Enchantment.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.

The Tribune reports a conversation with H. E. Meyer, a railway contractor who recently arrived from Mexico. Meyer said it would be well for Americans to keep their money in their pockets rather than invest in Mexican enterprises. Letters published in newspapers grossly misrepresent the condition of Mexico. Correspondents dare not tell the truth, because they would be driven out of the country. The famous Sonora mines are not as good as the Comstock's. Even now one cannot establish a claim there, because the highest bidder will step in after you have begun work and the Government will give him the mine.

A Dose of Ball Lightning.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.

The bark Gemshok, which arrived to-day from Auckland, reports that on October 9th, at 4 P. M., while running in a southwest gale and during a thick snow squall, a ball of fire passed over the ship, injuring Falsen, the mate, in both wrists; Charles Blumberg, at the wheel, in both legs, and Herman Makley in the head; breaking both gunwales and ripping plank from off the starboard boat. It exploded about 20 yards from the ship with a loud report, sparks flying from it like rockets. Strange to say there was no lightning or thunder at the time.

A Step Toward the Revival of Our Merchant Marine.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.

John Roach & Sons, ship builders, have closed a contract for the building of five iron sailing ships for an American corporation, of which Wm. H. Starbuck of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company and John Roach are stockholders. These vessels are to be from 1,600 to 2,000 tons capacity, and will be ship-rigged, with three masts. They will run from New York to any part of the globe.

Custom-House Frauds.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.

Captain Brackett of the custom house has discovered frauds in which a number of prominent firms are implicated, by which the government has been cheated out of large sums of money. All the frauds are in the appraiser's department. The scheme included officials who allowed a rebate on goods in perfect condition and excessive rebates on damaged goods. Warrants are issued.

SIX HUNTERS DROWNED.

TALLAHASSEE, Ala., Dec. 28.

A sloop capsized in a stream near the mouth of Bayou Taxar and six hunters—Alexander Dooly, Bill Howard, Noah Saunders, Peter Saunders, Bob Duncan and J. Jones—were drowned.

A Leadville Gambler Killed.

LEADVILLE, Dec. 27.

To-day a fatal shooting affray occurred in Stann's restaurant and gambling house. Matt Wells, a gambler, previously had a difficulty with John Kerr, a faro dealer, which was augmented by one Felory, another faro dealer, with whom Wells had an old feud, and who carried the talk of each to the other. This forenoon Wells went into Stann's restaurant and called for a drink. Seeing Felory he threw the glass and its contents into his face. Subsequently Felory met Wells on the street and knocked him down. Smarting under this infliction and half-crazed with liquor, Wells procured a revolver and returned to Stann's restaurant and commenced firing. Kerr emptied their revolvers, when Kerr was mortally wounded. Wells was immediately arrested. Two bystanders—Hunt, another gambler, and Conlon, 50 years of age—received severe wounds. Kerr died this afternoon at 2:30.

Protest Against one of Arthur's Appointees.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.

The Sun prints the full text of Hiller Sunderland's complaint in the suit against Kilbourne and Olmsted and says: "We do not think Arthur can read the allegations of systematic swindling and betrayal of trust without becoming convinced that the nomination of John F. Olmsted was a grave mistake. We do not think any Senator who reads the extraordinary story contained in the bill of complaint can look upon Olmsted as a fit subject for confirmation. A Sun Washington special says if Olmsted is confirmed the government of the District of Columbia will be substantially in the hands of Joseph R. West and Olmsted."

Langtry's New Chaperone—The Lily Still Popular.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.

Miss Langtry, sister-in-law of the actress, is expected on the Catalina, now due. She will chaperone the actress during the remainder of her professional tour. At Hailey's Brooklyn theater last night Langtry appeared in the "Unequal Match." The assemblage was fashionable, and filled every seat in the lower part of the house and at least two-thirds of the upper circles. As the play progressed manifestations of approval were more frequent and hearty, and subsequent recalls at the termination of the acts were decidedly expressive of friendly appreciation of the efforts of the fair actress.

The Highwayman's Sand-bag in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.

Street highwaymen are becoming so bold and their attacks occur so frequently that there is considerable talk of suppressing them by means of private enterprise. Scarcely a night passes that one or more attacks do not occur. One of the victims is likely to die. All have suffered severe injuries from the murderous sand-bag.

A Fearful Crime in Illinois.

SALEM, Ill., Dec. 27.

Last Sunday morning the mangled body of S. F. Warren was picked up on the railroad track. The coroner's jury decided that he was robbed by Samuel White and H. Tucker, beaten and left insensible on the track, where the train struck and killed him. White and Tucker were arrested. They will say nothing yet.

The Panama Canal.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.

It is stated that the DeLesseps company is negotiating with a New York construction company for building the Panama Canal, and that Trenor W. Park's trip to Panama was actually in this interest. The Pacific Mail will probably handle the construction material; hence the strength in the stock of that company.

The Whisky Barrels all Right.

PEORIA, Dec. 28.

Colonel Trumbull, Government Revenue Agent, after a full investigation, reports that the barrels used by two distilleries here, whose correctness has been challenged, are all right. Environs rivals made charge of dishonesty.

Only a Difference of Opinion.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 28.

John Gradenohl, a saloon keeper, has been arrested for challenging Fred Malzahn, a business man, to fight a duel. Gradenohl claims that his daughter was outraged by Malzahn, which he denied by the latter.

The Daily Railroad Accident.

OWINGSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 28.

An express going east collided with a freight train near State Creek, killing both engineers, brakemen and baggage master and injuring several passengers. No names given.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 27.

A boiler in Payne's saw mill at Black River Falls, exploded, killing Thomas Bemer, the engineer, instantly, and scalding several workmen. Three persons in a neighboring house were badly injured by fragments.

A Black Ravisher and Murderer Lynched.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 28.

On Tuesday night Charles Branchek, a negro who ravished and murdered a 9-year old girl near Varner, was lynched.

A Lost Man Found.

BOSTON, Dec. 28.

The missing theatrical agent, Seymour, has been found at Toronto on a railway train in a demented condition.

A party of Buffalo capitalists have purchased 150,000 acres in Southern Missouri, which they intend selling again to actual settlers.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday two brothers named Bullard were killed by two brothers named Jacoway in a quarrel. All are men of prominence.

The extensive nickel works of J. Wharton, North Camden, N. J., will suspend operations on the first of the year. The alleged cause is inability to compete with foreign manufacturers.

Wm. G. Butler, Labor Reform candidate, has served papers on Chas. G. Mitchell, Connecticut Congressman elect, on the ground that black ballots were cast for him. Butler received 49 votes.

J. H. Haverly has completed arrangements with Colonel Mapleton for his entire Italian Opera Company for a tour of Haverly's Western theaters, including the Haverly Theater, in San Francisco.

In Boston, last night, a three-story brick building on West Canton street, occupied by Wm. D. Gleason & Co. as a wood ornament establishment, was partially burned with its contents; loss probably $50,000.

In Paris there has been a serious decline in De Lesseps' Panama Canal scheme because he has shown no progress in his work. It is thought his management will be a failure and end in disaster. He now says the canal will probably cost 1,500,000,000 francs.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

Egyptian Rebels Sentenced.

CAIRO, Dec. 27.

Sentences varying from one year's police surveillance to 20 years' banishment have been imposed upon 84 political prisoners, including Emir Bey, El Shemaiy, and eleven others previously sentenced. Twelve of the richest prisoners were ordered to deposit guarantees of £50,000 and lesser amounts for the faithful observance of Government's orders.

Railroad Securities.

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.

The land grant bonds of the Canadian Pacific Railway are all sold by the Bank of Montreal and the account closed. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company will issue stock for $5,000,000 on European and American markets.

The people are tired of betting on the weather. We have been absolutely sure of a storm several times this Fall, but none has come yet. It seems as if the Winter has entirely forgotten us.

The Wadsworth folks are making large calculations for their masquerade ball on January 5th. They have arranged for special rates from all points on this division of the C. P. and a large number from neighboring towns are expected to be present. Reno will be well represented.

Senator James G. Fair sent Rev. W. R. Jevey a check on Christmas morning for $50. His money made many a little one happy, for it enabled Mr. Jevey to make the church Christmas tree much more attractive and bought presents for several Sunday School children.

A BIG MILL BURNED.

The Wind-up to one of Jones' Speculations.

The big mill at Darwin, owned by the Inyo Consolidated Mining Company, was burned to the ground on the evening of the 19th. It is said the fire was caused by the explosion of a retort. This mill was by far the most important and pretentious structure in the county, if not in these two mining counties, says the Inyo Independent. It was erected in 1874-5, by the Surprise Valley Water, Mining and Mill Company, which was led by Senator John P. Jones and Wm. M. Stewart. The Stedefelt furnace alone cost $75,000, and the entire plant the sum of $385,000, which came out of nearly $2,000,000 expended by the company in buying mines, great buildings, roads and general improvements. The works were insured for $40,000. It cost the present management $50,000. This is a dire misfortune for the owners, and another bad black eye for Inyo, any way it is put up. Developments will be awaited with the keenest interest.

Senator Jones has spent money lavishly, and no man can truthfully accuse him of meanness. It is reported, and generally accepted as a fact, that his Senatorship cost him more than half a million. He expended about $50,000 in collecting data for his famous speech on the currency of the world—for so it may be termed—explanatory of the "silver bill." His disastrous experiment at Panamint, Inyo county, was full of promise, and the same enterprise will doubtless be repeated by men with less money and brains, and prove a thorough success.

Excessive freights swamped him, combined with misplaced confidence in men to whom he entrusted the executive portion of his business. The Kern county venture would have attracted any man who had money. There is a large amount of gold in that locality, and any man who can devise a plan for draining an ocean will make money out of that same mine. He pumped for a whole year, and while he drained the country so dry that orchards six miles off died for want of moisture, he could never get to the bottom of his sump, and the result was that he abandoned a mill that cost $100,000, after spending nearly $1,000,000 to keep it employed.

The following from the St. Louis Democrat, gives an idea of the financial vicissitudes of our Senator, who, like all financiers who have made a mark in the world, is more successful in handling the money of others than in manipulating his own:

The unluckiest man on the Pacific Slope, in point of wealth, is Senator Jones of Nevada. There has, perhaps, never been so vast a fortune so quickly scattered as that of Jones'. In spite of popular belief, Senator Jones to-day is poor, comparatively speaking. When he was elected to the Senate in 1873 he was worth at least $10,000,000. To-day he is not worth $50,000 above his debts, and his Congressional salary is no longer despised as a source of income.

In spite of popular belief, Senator Jones to-day is poor, comparatively speaking. When he was elected to the Senate in 1873 he was worth at least $10,000,000. To-day he is not worth $50,000 above his debts, and his Congressional salary is no longer despised as a source of income.

The unluckiest man on the Pacific Slope, in point of wealth, is Senator Jones of Nevada. There has, perhaps, never been so vast a fortune so quickly scattered as that of Jones'.

BULL-BUTTER.

A Well-founded Prejudice Against Oleomargarine.

The California manufacturers of oleomargarine are making great efforts, by advertisements in the San Francisco dailies, to popularize their butter made from beetles' fat. There can be no harm, says the Sacramento Bee, in putting oleomargarine on the market so long as the consumers know what it is. When one is at home he can use with confidence butter purchased by his wife from the dairy-woman who makes her weekly rounds, but when he goes to a hotel or restaurant he eyes the butter with suspicion and tastes it with great misgiving, for whether oleomargarine be better or worse than the real butter made from the milk of cows, there is a prejudice in the mind of every person against oleomargarine. The public will be pleased with the law proposed by the dairymen in convention assembled, which suggests the propriety of causing makers of oleomargarine to stamp the name upon it, to oblige every person who sells it to name it to the purchaser, and every hotel or restaurant, or other place of entertainment, that puts it on the table, to label it with its true name. Then, if guests choose to eat it, that is their business. There is no hardship in that. The public who pay for butter ought to have butter, but if they are content with oleomargarine, let them have it and welcome, and know that they get it. If houses of public entertainment do not like to keep that label before their customers they can avoid doing so by furnishing their tables with real butter. It is not asserted that oleomargarine is not good and wholesome human food, by those who have had no experience in that line; but horse-flesh is said to be excellent, yet if one were to dish it up daily to his boarders and offer it as beef, he would be committing a fraud upon them. And so it would be with oleomargarine. To set it on the table as butter would be a fraud and the public entertainers that would do so would soon be shunned when the fact became known. And while the legislature is about protecting the public from this wrong, it should provide at the same time a punishment for still another which the dairymen and grocers practice by giving short weight in butter. A grocer will say, "Make me 55 two-pound rolls out of 100 pounds of butter, and I will pay you 50 cents extra for your trouble," and the dairyman makes the attempt, for if he did not thus become a party to the fraud the grocer would not buy his butter, as other dairymen will willingly enter upon the contract. This is a cheat upon the public, for each roll is sold for what is supposed to be two pounds weight. There is a law to punish severely the adulteration of human food, and there should be a law to prevent fraud in short weights.

Masonic Installation.

Reno Lodge, No. 13, F. & A. M., and Reno Chapter, No. 7, R. A. M., publicly installed their newly-elected officers last night. Both societies were well represented, besides being favored with the presence of many lady and gentlemen friends. The following officers were installed by Reno Lodge, No. 13, F. & A. M.: F. J. Winchel, W. M.; J. K. Everett, J. W.; H. L. Fish, Secretary; C. S. Varian, S. D.; B. F. James, J. D.; D. D. Bowen, Steward; C. C. Powning, Marshal; N. C. Haslund, Tyler. The Chapter installed the following: C. A. Bragg, H. P.; Wm. Webster, K.; G. H. Fogg, S.; F. J. Winchel, C. of H.; A. C. Bragg, P. S.; A. H. Manning, Treasurer; W. L. Bechtel, Secretary; T. K. Hymer, R. A. Capt.; R. H. Kinney, M. of 1st V.; Isaac Barnett, M. of 2d V.; B. F. James, M. of 3d V.; N. C. Haslund, Guard.

Political Plotting.

Carson is now a regular politician's nest, says the Enterprise. Schemes are daily concocted there that are sufficiently potent to overturn the Russian Government could they be brought to bear upon it. As it is, however, these concoctions do no harm. Being opposed by other equally potent plotters they are neutralized and fall to the ground. It is much the same when two cannon balls meet in the midst of their flight, or like an irresistible force coming in contact with an immovable body.

Sad News.

A. Lindley received a telegram this morning from Sacramento conveying the sad news of the death of his cousin, Flora Lindley, a bright girl of 18. She died yesterday of malarial fever, now so prevalent in Sacramento. Mr. Lindley will go down to-night to attend the funeral, which will take place to-morrow afternoon.

Surprise Cattle Coming.

Clark & Patterson of Surprise Valley are making preparations to drive their cattle to market. They are now hauling hay to various points on the road, so that the stock will be sure of feed at every stopping-place during the journey. The bees will be brought to Reno for shipment to San Francisco.

Carson & Colorado Road.

For some days past travel has been lively over the Carson & Colorado Railroad. It will rapidly increase next month, when a station will be opened at Benton, Mono county, Cal. All the travel from Owen's valley and the country beyond will then pass this way over the road.

Lost Woman Department.

Information is wanted by A. S. Hubbard of the United States Mint, San Francisco, of Mrs. Louise Wentworth, wife of Harvey Wentworth, who is supposed to have died at Deadwood, or in Nevada City, between the years of 1857 and 1860.
